Transformer for PGCIL

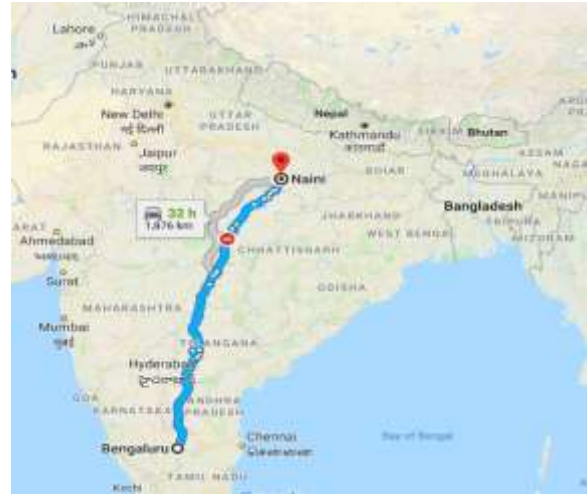

MFC specializes in transportation of heavy critical cargo and when PGCIL floated tender for movement of 230 MT transformer... The job was that a 500 MVA, 400 / 220 kV Transformer was planned to move from PGCIL Bangalore to GE T&D factory in Naini & RFQ was floated accordingly. Standing alongside numerous other participant who took active part in bidding for this ambitious project, MFC emerged as a winner & was awarded with this job after a series of stringent evaluation & due diligence.

Transformer with dimension of L- 10.77 X B – 4.7 X H- 4.2 Mtrs. & weighing 230 MT was finally ready for its journey from Bangalore to Naini & was loaded on MFC's state of Art Goldhofer axle lines, a 14 axles modular trailer bed for assembled for this movement. With distance of 1876 km's to be travelled, all the way from South of India to Central India was definitely not an easy task due to ODC nature of the consignment. MFC faced several challenges, right from movement planning to conducting RHA's, resource deployment, coordination while package was en-route & most importantly to make sure execution plan is followed & package reaches site safely & in committed time frame.

"We would continue to be a robust partner to all our clients for all the logistics needs and reiterate our commitment to always add value to our clients by way of innovation and perfection in execution".

As we in MFC believe in modernization, all our latest fleets are fitted with IVMS to fetch real time update which rules out all the possibilities of error that may cause due to traditional way of calling drivers for update which at times becomes difficult due to signal issues or tough geographic conditions.

Target was achieved!!! The transformer was safely delivered at Naini site. This was possible due to the through planning and implementation of the plan by the team alongside round the clock support of the technical team.

Special Thanks to PGCIL & GE who supported us throughout this move & to have reposed faith in us. We hereby assure that we shall continue to deliver value & our commitment to highest standard & safety & compliance.
